

TVShows API (Install and Run)

Packages installed for this project:

In addition to the packages, it's necessary to place the database to be connected to it, placing the .mdf file on the device where the project will be opened and selecting the database. It may be necessary to change the connection string for the database.

Note: If it's necessary to create the database, the files are in the repository.

To run the project, just press CTRL + F5 and the Swagger interface opens in the browser, which can be used to test the project endpoints.
